Kennedy May Ask Speedup in U. S. Spending

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is reported planning to announce tonight a speedup in spending of some federal funds in a fresh effort to spur the lagging economy and reduce unemployment.

Informed officials said they understood the President intends to make such an announcement at his news conference scheduled for 7 p. m. EST. The conference will be broadcast live on nationwide television and radio.

On the international front, Kennedy faces questioning about his views of the crises in the Congo and in the United Nations resulting from the assassination of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba. Heightening the tension are Soviet demands that the matter be dealt with on Soviet terms.

The domestic antirecession measures Kennedy is said to have decided upon would not require action by Congress.

"There was no immediate word regarding details, but the Kennedy plans are reported to call for issuing new administrative orders to a few federal agencies for spending money faster than planned on some government programs.

Indications are that such speedup spending would not be on any massive scale. The idea is to pump some additional money into the economy, pending congressional consideration of the Kennedy legislative program, aimed at business recovery, easing of unemployment hardship and reduction of joblessness.

Administration officials and Democratic congressional leaders clearly are becoming increasingly concerned about the recession.

Both Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and House Speaker Carl Albert have indicated that mounting concern starts at the top, with Kennedy. The Cabinet officer and the speaker have told reporters that the President will have something to say about the situation at his meeting with newsmen.

City Asks Probe of Power Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Blytheville Citizens Committee asked Tuesday for an investigation of gas and power rates charged by the Arkansas-Missouri Power Co.

Committee representatives said they were told by Public Service Commission officials to originate the request at home.

Five representatives from Blytheville visited Gov. Orval E. Faubus' office, Atty. Gen. Frank Holt and the PSC.

The PSC told them to have the City Council ask for an investigation. The representatives said it had been asked. The representatives said they would ask again and if they didn't get it this time, they would return to the PSC.

Bill Permits Medical Corporations

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House today passed a bill to permit doctors to form medical corporations.

Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell said his bill had the backing of the Arkansas Medical Society and was designed to put state law in line with American Medical Association codes which were changed recently to permit doctors to form corporations.

Doctors can effect tax savings by practicing in the corporations. Cottrell said. Doctors may work individually or in partnership under present law.

The bill now goes to the Senate. On reconsideration, the House gave 73-15 approval to a bill which was defeated 41-51 Tuesday.

The measure would permit issuance of national resource license tags for a six month period rather than annually. Natural resource tags are sold at a greatly reduced rate for vehicles which do not use the highways often, such as log trucks.

Unanimous approval was given a House bill to define fish farming as agriculture.

Lonoke County Rep. W. F. Foster, author of the bill, said fish farmers were having trouble finding a federal agency to work with because the Agriculture Department says such activity is not agriculture and the Small Business Administration says it is.

A bill to give the power of eminent domain to Arkansas State College, the University of Arkansas Tech, Arkansas A&M and Arkansas State Teachers College ran into trouble and was withdrawn temporarily by its author, Rep. David Burleson of Washington County.

Burleson said he was merely trying to give these schools a power already granted other state colleges in separate bills, but after several representatives questioned the bill he withdrew it.

Eminent domain allows a governmental body to condemn land. The House passed a bill to require county clerks to keep a list of persons obtaining absentee ballots, to post the list for 10 days after an election and to make it available to inspection for six months after the election.

Explanation of Teacher Bill Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House today invited Gov. Orval E. Faubus and the executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association to appear to explain alternate proposals for revising the state Teacher Retirement System.

Invitations were extended to Faubus and Forrest Rozzell of the AEA to appear at 2 p. m. today when the House is scheduled to consider the teacher retirement proposals as a special order of business.

The Senate also is to consider the proposals as a special order of business today. It resumes at 1 p. m.

Rozzell and the AEA are backing a bill in both houses under the state would pay 9.2 per cent of teachers' salaries as its contribution to the retirement program.

Faubus has drafted a plan to limit the state's participation to 5 per cent.

Both plans call for a teacher contribution of 5 per cent of salary, the same as at present, and would permit teachers to vote themselves into the federal Social Security program.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem made the motion to invite Faubus and Rozzell. "With all the at 10 a. m. Thursday at Reubel interest and publicity there is in this thing, we ought to go straight to the sources for our information," Van Dalsem said.

Fate of Public Service Bill That Created New $6,000 a Year Job, Is in Doubt

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The fate of a $63,000 Public Service Commission appropriation bill was left in doubt Tuesday when the Arkansas Senate declined to approve the measure. House approval went to a proposal to close the state Confederate Home.

An administration-sponsored amendment to the PSC money bill — to create a $6,000 a year administrative assistant for the agency's Assessment Co-ordination Division — was approved by the upper chamber, but a roll call vote on the bill itself brought only a 20-10 margin.

It takes 27 votes to pass an appropriation measure. The Senate previously had passed the bill but the amendment was tacked on later in the House and the upper chamber had to concur.

It was not clear what effect the roll call vote would have since the bill had been passed earlier. "We'll straighten it out tomorrow (Wednesday)," Sen. Clifton Wade of Fayetteville, the Senate's president pro tem, told newsmen.

Major House action was on the bill to close the Confederate Home and turn the building over to the State Blind School.

The bill, by Lee Rep. W. L. Ward, would transfer the eight elderly women now living at the home to private nursing homes at state expense.

Ward said the women — relatives of Confederate veterans — could be better cared for elsewhere and said the Blind School needs the building, which is located on its campus. The building would be used by 26 spastic blind students.

Other measures approved by the House Tuesday included proposals to:

Permit the exchange of benches by municipal judges.

Authorize the establishment of a state mark at the Marks Mill Civil War battlefield site in Cleveland County.

Increase income exemptions of persons seeking to qualify for welfare assistance.

Provide that officials of first class cities could receive salary increases — but not decreases — during their term of office.

Grant sales tax exemptions for certain material and equipment now exempt from the state use tax.

Van Dalsem Gets Raise Restored

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County Tuesday got the Legislative Joint Budget Committee to restore a raise for the state Education Department's annual appropriation for transportation aid to local school districts from $5.7 million to $6 million.

Van Dalsem got the item raised once, then found that the Committee had reduced it again while he was in Florida last weekend for a conference.

Faubus Okays Concessions to Counties

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Counties wangled some more concessions out of Gov. Orval E. Faubus Tuesday night after earlier compromise meetings apparently had settled differences over highway money for the counties, cities and Highway Department.

The counties' newly-gained ground could open the way for more concessions for cities.

Faubus Tuesday listed these terms:

Counties would be guaranteed a minimum of $100,000 each for work on secondary roads in the next two years. If the Highway Department fails to meet the agreement each county would be eligible for $40,000 a year of state-federal funds.

Cities would be guaranteed $750,000 a year more in road money based on present highway fund allocations.

The state would grant the cities and counties each about $400,000 extra a year in general fund turn-backs, through a revenue stabilization act now being prepared.

Tuesday night, Little River County Judge Ray Sikes, president of the County Judges Association, announced that the judges had agreed to accept the governor's compromises with these changes:

If the Highway Department failed to contract the $100,000 minimum in each county, the county would get the $100,000 to spend on county roads in a two-year period.

State contract work would be limited to unimproved state secondary roads rather than improved roads.

Faubus would sign a House bill to increase the counties' share of general fund revenues by $530,000 to a total of $3,200,000 a year.

Sikes said Faubus had agreed to these changes.

A spokesman for the Municipal League said that he didn't believe the cities objected to the road work concessions won by the judges but that the general fund change was "another thing." The more general turnback from the state since 1949.

Cleanup Days Are Set at Emmet

Mayor Rany Garland of Emmet has issued a proclamation designating Feb. 15-22 as community cleanup, paintup and fixup week and urges cooperation of all residents.

On Feb. 17-18-20 city workers will pick up trash, cans and other debris house-to-house provided it is properly packed or placed in metal barrels, wicker baskets or wooden boxes. Pastebard boxes are not acceptable.

The proclamation urges owners to burn grass and leaves on the premises and on vacant lots. But urges extra caution by borrowing a fire extinguisher from the school and telephoning the Fire Tower.

The proclamation also cautions against dumping cans and other trash along streets or highways and on other people's property. Anyone caught will be fined $25 in Mayor's Court, the Mayor warned.

Thursday night a meeting has been called at the school for the purpose of organizing a volunteer fire department. The Mayor urges everyone to cooperate.

Entire American Figure Skating Team Perishes

By FRED CHEVAL

BRUSSELS, Belgium (A) — Fifty-four Americans, including the entire U.S. figure skating team perished today in the flaming crash of a Sabena Belgian Airlines jet. In all, the crash of the American built Boeing 707 brought death to 73 persons.

Disaster struck at 10:05 a.m. as the $5-million plane, its engines suddenly sounding odd, sought a landing in bright sunshine after a flight from New York.

The huge plane slammed to earth beside a woods three miles north of Brussels International Airport and went up in flames fed by fuel oil as the tanks exploded one by one.

All 61 passengers and the crew of 11 died. A Belgian farmer tilling his cabbage patch was struck and killed.

Mrs. Maribel Vinson Owen, 49, of Winchester, Mass., nine times the U.S. figure skating champion was killed along with two daughters who were members of the current team. The girls were Laurence Owen, 16, and Maribel Owen, 20. Mrs. Owen last weekend had seen Laurence win the North American championships at Philadelphia.

Mrs. Owen and Conch Deane McMillin of Lomita, Calif., were accompanying the 18-member U.S. team to world figure skating championships in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

The team is the fifth major sports group wiped out by plane crashes in a dozen years, including soccer teams of Italy, Britain and Denmark. Sixteen members of the California Poly football team were killed in the crashup of a chartered plane last Oct. 29 at Toledo, Ohio.

The Boeing crashed in a small pond and started burning almost at once. Fire engines previously alerted because of its erratic behavior screamed toward the scene, but arrived only in time to check the spread of fire.

"There were no survivors," a fire officer said.

Charred bodies were removed to a temporary morgue at the airport. A Belgian farm laborer lost a leg and was hospitalized.

In addition to the two Owen girls, the members of the U.S. skating team were Steffi Westerfield, Gregory Kelley and Bill and Laurie Hieko, all of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Bradley Lord and Dudley Richards of Boston; Donna Lee Carrier, Diane Sherblom and Roger Campbell of Las Angeles; Rhodie Michelson, Lang Beach, Calif.; Douglas Ramsay, Detroit; Ray and Ha Itae Hadley, Seattle; Larry Pierce, Indianapolis; and Bob and Pat Dineen, New York.

Debris from the terribly twisted Boeing was scattered for several hundred yards.

The nightmare evolved from Sabena's Flight 541 from New York, piloted by Cmdr. Louis Lambert.

Residents of the seacoast village of Berg figured something might be wrong when the airliner sped over them for its approach to the airport. The engine roar changed oddly and the flight pattern looked erratic.

The plane circled the field a time or two. It lowered the undercarriage, retracted it, turned again and fell.

"Suddenly the plane fell in a series of 'pops' as an airport official said. "It literally disintegrated."

There was a tremendous explosion. On a large Brussels express train skirting the airport many passengers saw the disaster. Said Continued on Page Six

Labor Chief Thinks 'Man' Is Reasonable

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg has confidence in the sweet reasonableness of John Kennedy.

It's time basis for his hope that President Kennedy's forthcoming Labor - Management Advisory Council will accomplish something.

There are two arguments against it:

1. Labor and management represent two separate power forces, each big business in its own right and each out for all it can get.

2. The history of labor-management conferences in this country has not been good. There were two big ones: in 1919 and 1945. The results were dismal.

It might be expected that labor and management would reach happy compromises for the good of all. This would be the rule of reason.

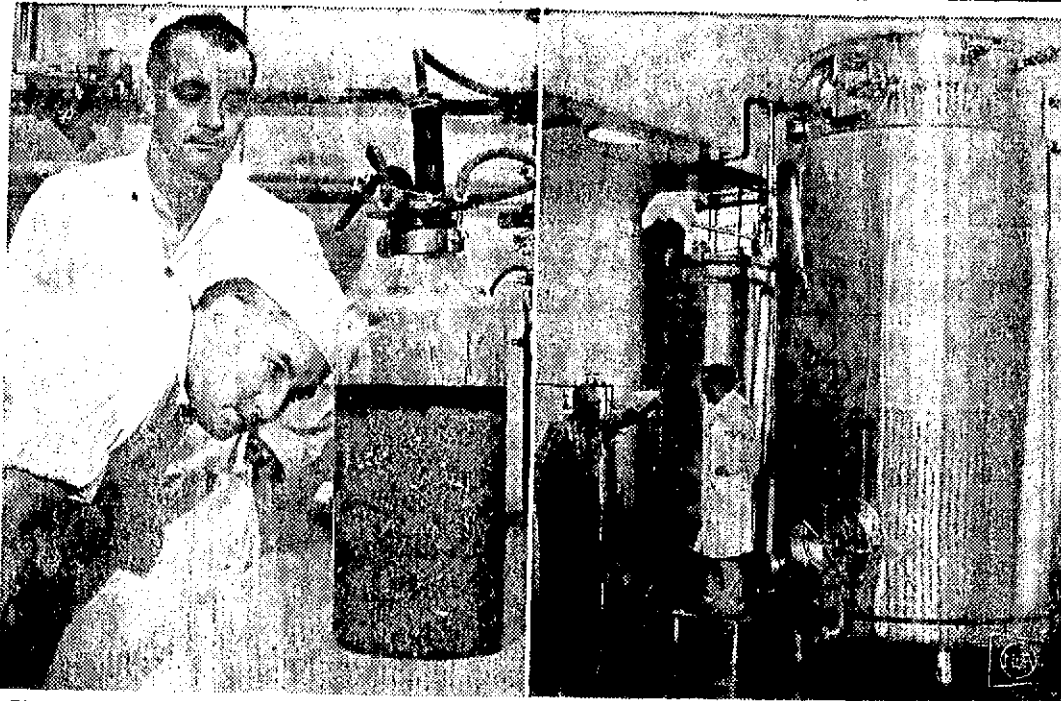

But if reason ruled there would be no big strikes and no wars. The rule of reason would have required unions, management and nations to reach happy solutions through conference and compromise without resort to strength.

In the end labor and management will have to work together, and make compromises, if the Communist pressure on this country becomes more intense, as it probably will.

The greatest handicap to Goldberg in getting unions and management to work together — and for Kennedy in getting Congress to act swiftly to improve the economy — is that the nation still seems to lack a sense of urgency.

Kennedy told Congress in his economic message Feb. 2 that he will issue an executive order creating his Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

It is to be composed of seven representatives of business, seven of labor, and seven others, including Goldberg and Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges, representing the public.

MUSHROOMS GROWN IN MILK—Growing mushrooms inside tanks filled with skim milk and a few other things is a lifesaver for a former milk-processing plant in Lebanon, Mo. Noting that the U.S. annually imports about 900,000 pounds of dried mushrooms at $4 a pound for soups and sauces, the plant officials swung into the mushroom business. Two technicians, left, examine spores started in a bottle into which is fed sterile air, necessary for bacteria-free mushrooms that can be stored without spoiling. Right are the big stainless steel tanks to which the spores are transferred for the maturing process.

The committee could be an instrument for controlling prices and wages and, through them, inflation.

But the labor and management representatives on the President's committee will be under various pressures.

The management people will be anxious for greater productivity and lower costs. Costs include wages. Costs and productivity will also include automation. Automation involves replacing men with machines.

The union representatives will be under pressure from their members to save jobs, automation or not, and to get good wages.

In short, both sides will be under pressure from their own groups to get the greatest benefits for them.

Goldberg has shown unusual energy. Witness his five-state trip over the weekend to examine conditions in unemployment areas.

He is credited with a fast mind and a lot of balance and ideas. He and Hodges will alternate as chairmen of the committee.

Both men came up the hard way. Nothing they ever did is likely to be harder than making the Labor - Management Committee work.

tion a House bill to equalize sales and use tax exemptions.

The measure is similar to Senate bills passed Tuesday by the House, but would take a different approach to the problem.

House bills approved by the upper chamber Tuesday and now ready for action by Gov. Orval E. Faubus included measures to:

Regulate barber schools.

Pay widows or other next of kin unpaid salaries of legislators who died during or after the 1959 General Assembly. (Sponsors said legislators who have died were Conway Rep. Clay Brazil, who died last Saturday; Rep. Gus Ladd of Phillips County and Sens. Bob Dodson of Magnolia and Arlie Gregory of Little Rock.)

Provide a severance tax allowance for natural gas producers, similar to an allowance given crude oil producers for underground dispersion of salt water.

Among bills passed by the Senate and sent to the House for action were proposals which would:

Expand the power of trial judges in dealing with traffic law violators.

Transfer the assessment of airlines from the Revenue Department to the Public Service Commission and require that a carrier resisting a tax assessment pay the tax on the basis of the disputed assessment and get a refund if the court finally rule in its favor. (Under present law no tax is paid until a final settlement.) Another provision of the bill would give the PSC's Tax and Assessment Co-ordination Divisions equal status.

Senate introductions included bills to:

Regulate and tax the sale of fireworks and limit their sale to the periods from June 20 through July 10 and Dec. 10 through Jan. 5.

Establish procedures for filing and paying claims against a county.

Bills introduced in the House Tuesday would:

Set up a state Building Commission to supervise major construction.

Prohibit the sale of automobiles on Sunday.

Make members of boards and commissions personally liable for defects in buildings constructed under their supervision if they fail to make the contractor execute bond or otherwise assume liability.

Prohibit persons under 12 years of age from operating motorboats except under supervision.

UA Collecting Ozark Folklore

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas is adding what it says may be the largest collection of Ozark literature and folklore material in the country to its library.

The folklore collection—containing over 1,000 different volumes—belonged to the late Otto Rayburn of Eurkea Springs, who made arrangements before he died last October to preserve the library at the University. The collection was moved to the university two weeks ago and now is being catalogued and filed.

Marvin Miller, director of libraries, said the collection is invaluable "because it contains stories and data that could not be collected from any other source."

dismissal; (2) disarming of anti-Communist factions in the chaotic African republic and (3) withdrawal of all U.N. forces within a month.

Both the chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin were to address the council this morning.

The Soviets seized on the assassination of former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba to step up their campaign, launched last September by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in his table-thumping appearance before the United Nations, to revamp that organization in a Moscow mold.

The strongly-worded Soviet resolution accused Hammarskjold of being "an accomplice and organizer" of Lumumba's slaying while in the hands of his political enemies. Earlier the Soviets declared they would have no more dealings with the secretary-general.

The United States immediately pledged support to Hammarskjold, pledging to install a Soviet-subversive regime in the Congo. Indian spokesmen also called for continuance of U.N. operations in the Congo as offering the only chance to prevent civil war that many feared would involve the major powers in another Korean-style conflagration.

The Soviet resolution also charged Belgium with prime responsibility for Lumumba's death and called for sanctions against the Congo's former ruler.

The resolution demanded the arrest of Katanga Province President Moise Tshombe, in whose province Lumumba was killed, and Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, the army chief of President Joseph Kasavubu's regime, and the disarming of all troops and police under their control.

The Soviets also demanded the immediate disarmament and withdrawal from the Congo of all Belgian forces and all Belgian personnel.

Some Asian and African nations were reported favoring adoption of penalties against Belgium if that country failed to withdraw both its civilian and military personnel from the Congo.

Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny in Brussels vehemently denied again that Belgium had anything to do with the arrest and death of the man they installed as head of the independent Congo government eight months ago.

Stevenson told the U.N. Correspondents Association the United States is still working for a constructive and workable solution of the Congo crisis, but he acknowledged the situation is grave.

Coogan Has Mumps

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — Actor Jack Coogan's preliminary hearing on a narcotics charge will be delayed until March 1 because another case took precedence — a case of the mumps.

The hearing which started last week, was postponed when it was reported that Coogan had the mumps.

Alarmed Over Congo Situation

By DENNIS NEED

LONDON (AP)—Western alarm mounted today as Communist support for Patrice Lumumba's political heirs in the Congo raised the fearful specter of a Korea-like war in the heart of Africa.

Banner newspapers headlines across Western Europe showed the concern at the Soviet Union's offer of "all possible assistance and support" to the Lumumbist government of Antoine Gizenga, controlling a large part of the northern Congo from headquarters in Stanleyville.

Fears were openly expressed that the U.N. attempt to prevent civil war in the Congo would collapse, that the Soviet Union and its Communist allies would supply Gizenga's forces, and that the United States and its allies would have to bulwark the Leopoldville government of President Joseph Kasavubu and Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu or see the vast territory go to the Communists by default.

President Nasser's United Arab Republic Tuesday night officially recognized Gizenga's regime as the legal government of the Congo. Red China quickly lined up.

Premier Chou En-lai cabled Gizenga: "The Chinese people are deeply convinced that the Congolese people will surely turn their grief into strength and, under the leadership of your excellency and the lawful Congolese government, will fight to the end against the imperialist bloc headed by the United States of America and in defense of the national independence of the Congo."

Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah, always a supporter of Lumumba, lashed the United Nations for the role it played in the Congo and added: "The danger in the Congo is not so much the possibility of a civil war between Africans, but rather a colonialist war in which the colonial and imperialist powers hide behind African puppet regimes."

U.S. officials were reported counting heavily on dozens of the smaller nations—particularly in Africa—to rally to the defense of the United Nations. This hope was bolstered by India's ambassador to Washington, M. C. Chagla, who said his government favors strengthening the United Nations because "it is only as the United Nations is effective that we will prevent civil war."

Tunisia's government radio attacked the Soviet action in the new Congo crisis, calling it "dangerous" and "risking creation of a new Korea."

Observers in Cairo predicted heavy pressure on Sudanese Premier Ibrahim Abboud to allow planes carrying arms and other supplies from the Communists and the U.A.R. to Stanleyville to make the necessary refueling stop in the Sudan.

Many observers in Cairo believe the Soviet Union is geared for a big arms supply program to Stanleyville. Mysterious Soviet vessels recently have slipped unannounced through the Suez Canal reportedly carrying arms and explosives. There have been signs of increased Soviet arms deliveries to Egypt itself, indicating the Soviet might be using Cairo as an arms depot.

TV Disrupted
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hot and cold layers of air converged on microwave equipment between Orlando and West Palm Beach Monday night, blacking out all television network programs in south east Florida and disrupting telephone and teletype communications.

Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. officials said there was no wind in the area and the air refracted signals, affecting all communications channels.

The trouble showed up at 7:35 p.m. on some television stations in the Miami area and did not clear up until shortly before midnight.

Personal Mention
Mrs. Herald Porterfield is a patient in Schumppert Hospital in Shreveport. She underwent surgery Tuesday and messages may be sent to her there.

Miss Wilma Boswell underwent surgery Tuesday in the Little Rock Baptist Hospital and is reported as recovering nicely.

Coming and Going
Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harris of Alus, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Texarkana, Mrs. Alton Bowlin of Conway and the Howard Smiths of Shreveport.

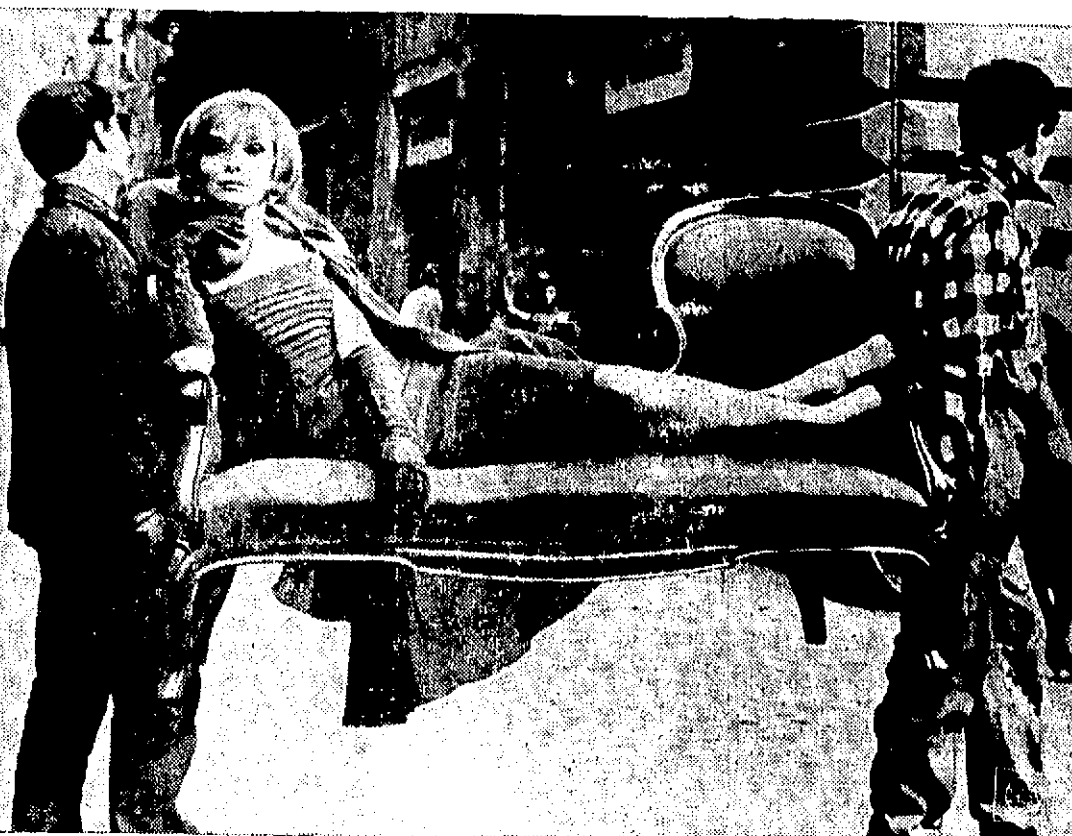

Mrs. Lloyd Spencer left Wednesday for Richmond, Va. to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gottwald and sons.

Boy Seeks Basis of Comparison Before Settling For One Girl

By HELEN WORDEN, ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am a boy of 18 who is very much in love — or thinks he is. The trouble is this girl is the only one I've ever gone with, so I have no way of telling if this is the real thing, or she the girl for me.

She comes from a good family and is well-to-do. I have no family and support myself. I have enough pay coming to me each week and enough money in the bank to support a wife and, if everything goes well, I hope to marry this girl some day.

But, before I do, I want to meet other girls. Do you think that is okay? — A Steady Reader

Dear Steady Reader: Better to be sure than sorry. Your instinct is right. Meeting other girls will give you a basis of comparison. An 18-year-old boy is far younger than a girl of similar age. Take your time and don't push the calendar. And if you were really in love, you wouldn't raise the question!

Dear Helen:

I am the mother of three teenagers: two sons, one 17, the other somewhat older, and a daughter 15½. It was my belief that my letting my girl double date with her 17-year-old brother until she was 16 might help her adjust to dating problems. Instead it has precipitated a petting problem.

My oldest child isn't married yet nor has he any problems. But these two younger ones! I have always had the confidence of my children but I just don't know how to cope with this situation. — Troubled Mother

Dear Troubled Mother: Were your problem children older I would say, talk it out with them. But I doubt the advisability of this, especially where your 15-year-old daughter is concerned. I would avoid making it a major issue, but I would make it my business to see that she is surrounded by others her own age when not at school or studying. Encourage her to invite friends to her home, go out with them in groups and attend school dances looking her preflight. Encourage her brother to make his own dates.

Dear Helen:

I married a mama's boy. Before the children came I gave my husband every cent I earned. Our children are grown but I still work, part time, in a grocery store and manage to keep our home and myself tidy. Yet my husband says he no longer needs me.

I have pride but can't see giving up a home I worked hard to maintain. Have you any suggestions? — Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Tell your husband to go jump in the river. If your home is much as his, keep it. You've done your part. It's high time he did his.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Successful Marriage."

Ben's Adventure Is Updated

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Steve Covington, 19, updated Ben Franklin's kite flying adventures with startling results Monday.

Steve was using crocheting yarn when the wind swung his kite over a power line carrying 12,000 volts.

He was only slightly jarred by the resulting shock. But the short-circuit cut off power to 3,000 Orangevale area homes for an hour and temporarily knocked out a substation.

Congo Likely to Touch Off a New Crisis

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union's attack on the United Nations operations in the Congo threatened today to touch off a new crisis in relations between Washington and Moscow at a time when they have shown hopeful improvement.

Such a crisis seems inevitable if the Soviet government forces to a showdown the threats and demands it has made as a result of the slaying of former Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba.

The futures of both the Congo and the United Nations appeared to be at stake. The Congo now could rapidly become the arena of intensified East-West conflict; the United Nations could be virtually paralyzed as a peacemaker.

Officials here were reported hopeful that the situation can be brought under control before its most dangerous potentialities develop much further. To that end, it is understood, they are counting heavily on dozens of the smaller nations, especially African states, to rally to the defense of the United Nations against Soviet demands.

The White House and State Department withheld any comment although Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high officials devoted considerable time to studying the problems raised. Kennedy will have an opportunity to express his own views tonight. He has scheduled a televised news conference for 7 p.m. EST.

Bad Heart May Send Out Cry for Help

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Is it possible that before a person suffers a heart attack the organ may send out a cry for help which goes unheard because the sound is unaudible to the physician's stethoscope?

Physicians at Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital believe this is possible. They are conducting experiments along these lines.

The hospital reported today that tests are being made on more than 500 patients with electronic microphones, designed to detect sub-sonic sounds.

The experiments are being conducted by a team headed by Dr. Donald Mason and Dr. Joseph F. Uricchio.

The physicians, by applying an ultra-sensitive microphone to the chest wall, have been able to pick up heart sounds in the range and intensity of 1 to 50 cycles per second. Most of these sounds are inaudible to the normal human ear with a stethoscope.

Researchers report the sounds form what appears to be a standard pattern in normally functioning hearts. The pattern varies only with progressive age. Researchers, therefore, have been able to set up normal patterns for age groups.

It is hoped that this method eventually will permit physicians to detect departures from this from in seemingly healthy individuals whose heart malfunction is hidden or incipient.

Agree to Boost Appropriation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Joint Budget Committee of the Arkansas House and Senate Tuesday agreed for the second time to boost the state Education Department's annual appropriation for transportation aid to local school districts. The total would be $6 million.

Perry Rep. Paul Van Dalsen originally got the appropriation increased from $5.7 million to $6 million, but it was trimmed last week end while he was out of the state. The extra funds were put back in Tuesday at Van Dalsen's insistence.

Man Charged With Murder

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A second degree charge was filed Tuesday against a 55-year-old parking lot attendant held in the fatal shooting of a Hughes, Ark., man at a Little Rock hotel.

Pulaski Circuit Judge William J. Kirby ordered a 30-day mental examination for Clarence E. Sherry.

Sherry was charged in the slaying of Thomas Benton Green, 40, last Saturday. Officers said the shooting occurred in Sherry's hotel room where the two men were watching television.

Sherry lost his job if jailed got the sentence reduced.

Mrs. Edgeworth was told to report to jail Saturday for one day.

Edwin stared at her in doubt and horror.
"But that isn't the worst," Del rattled on. "After she hit Blanche, she just jumped out of the car and ran off. Imagine that; it's a wonder, the way the car was smashed up she wasn't killed herself. And I guess she would have been except she was so drunk. You know how drunk people never get hurt in a wreck because they're all relaxed? Anyway, she must have known Blanche was hurt bad and she went off and left her there to die. Her own sister."

"Later on they found her in some cheap hotel downtown, drunk and out of her head. They tried to smooth it over by saying she had gone into shock and didn't remember anything. They said she didn't mean to hurt Blanche, that her foot just slipped on the gas. But there was some on the inside who seemed to think different. Everybody knew Jane Hudson would have died, too, right there in the street like a dog, only she managed to crawl up onto a neighbor's porch and get help."

"I even heard they had to put her away for a while after the accident," Del persisted, "this Jane Hudson you're so crazy about."

"Crazy about?" Edwin looked up, angered. "I don't believe it, that's all."

Del's gaze came up sharply, striking hard against his. "You're going to see a woman like that again? A woman who'd try to kill

Chapter XXI

Del met his gaze across the table, pleased that she had managed to capture his interest so completely. "Well, it all started at one of those big parties, you know one of those big Hollywood parties where there are a lot of movie people. It was at some big producer's house, there was a lot to drink and all that. Anyway, Jane Hudson started right in to make a fool of herself - like she always did - she was famous for it - only this time, well I guess Blanche just decided she'd had all she could stand. They said she grabbed her right there in front of everybody - that Blanche grabbed Jane - and she told her to go and get her coat because they were going home."

"There was a big squabble between the two of them, and then finally when they got out of the house and out to the car, it started all over again. Jane was bound she was going to drive home, and Blanche was bound she wasn't. In the end, though, Blanche gave in - I guess just because she was so embarrassed and anxious to get out of there. And so - the next morning there had been this awful accident, and Blanche was crippled up in the hospital."

"Well, then - it was just an accident."
"Well, yes, but then the real story began to leak out. Where it happened was right at the front gates to their own yard - a pair of big fancy iron things, they said they were, in front of the driveway. Nobody ever said what happened in so many words, but there wasn't much doubt about it. Blanche got out of the car to work this trick gadget that made the gate open, and Jane Hudson tried to run her down and kill her. She just waited until Blanche was standing in front of those gates and she stepped down on the gas and drove right into her. It gives me the shivers just to think about it."

Edwin stared at her in doubt and horror.
"But that isn't the worst," Del rattled on. "After she hit Blanche, she just jumped out of the car and ran off. Imagine that; it's a wonder, the way the car was smashed up she wasn't killed herself. Electoral College Proposal Adopted

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A resolution asking Congress to take steps to change the electoral college system of electing a president was adopted by the Arkansas House today.

The resolution asks Congress to submit a proposed constitutional amendment to effect the so-called Lodge-Cossett plan pending before the 81st Congress.

Introduced by Pulaski County Representative Joe Ledbetter and Hempstead County Rep. Talbo Feild, the resolution says the Lodge-Cossett plan would eliminate the possibility that a candidate would receive a minority of the popular vote but still get majority of the electoral vote.

Under the plan, electoral vote would be distributed according to the proportion of popular vote received by a candidate.

Earlier this session the House defeated a resolution urging abolition of the electoral college.

Would Oust All Non-Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A suit to force non-teachers out of the Arkansas Teacher Retirement System was filed today in Pulaski County Chancery Court.

Winston G. Chandler, a member of the Pulaski County Rural School District Board, brought the suit against trustees of the Teacher Retirement System, State Auditor Jimmy Jones and State Treasurer J. Vance Clayton.

Chandler's attorney said a number of persons associated with education are getting the benefits of the program, which were intended only for teachers.

The suit challenges the constitutionality of using state tax money to match contributions to the retirement system by employees of the Arkansas Education Association and Arkansas Teachers Association, a Negro organization.

Free is a nice word to sing about, but not very practical advice when it comes to raising a family.

In fact, when you get right down to sorting the thistles from the clover, you begin to realize that the really important things for day-to-day existence aren't free at all. And we're willing to part with our hard earned cash to buy them simply because we feel they are important.

Take a simple thing like a copy of a newspaper . . . people just aren't going to buy it if they don't want it. Paid circulation is important because it demonstrates the wantedness of a publication.

Magnolia, Malvern and Fairview pulled out with Hope into the semi-finals of the Region 4A Jr. Tournament in Jones Field House last night. Magnolia smothered Crossett 45-11 in the first game. Fairview came from behind to take Smackover 41-25 in the second and Malvern took Camden 31-25 in the final quarter.

Magnolia, who is favored to meet Hope in the finals, showed their teamwork and scoring abilities, as they led 15-4, 21-4, 34-6 and 45-11 at the end of each quarter respectively. Dodson was high for the victors with 10 and Dooley Garrett, Wiggins, and Brookings were tied for high with 2 each. Magnolia meets Fairview at 7 p.m. Thursday night.

Fairview pulled out after trailing 8-6 at the end of the first quarter. They outscored Smackover 35-18 in the last three periods. Law was high for Smackover with 8, while Teel took 18 for Fairview. Camden caught fire and led Malvern 11-6 in the first quarter and 14-8 at the half. Then it was Malvern's turn as they pulled into a 16 all tie going into the final period, where the victors took 15 points to Camden's 9. Waggoner had 9 for Camden, as Fitzhugh sank 15 for Malvern. Malvern will meet the Bobkittens at 8 p.m. tomorrow night.

Monday night the second team Bobcats took Blevins 68-55. The score was tied 10-10 at the end of the first, but the second team led 32-26, 54-41 and 68-55 at the end of the last three quarters. Murphy led Hope with 23. Powell had 18. Hatfield 17 and Roberts and Porterfield sank 5 each. Hicks led the losers with 23.

The Bobkittens meet Malvern in the semi-finals Thursday at 8 p.m. Boost the Bobkittens through the district championship and into the state tournament.

3-Way Fight for Chance at Pro Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A three-way battle is developing for the third playoff spot in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, while the first-place St. Louis Hawks ride along with a comfortable 12-game lead.

St. Louis edged the second-place Detroit Pistons Tuesday night in the second game of a doubleheader at St. Louis, 135-134 after the Boston Celtics had rocked the Los Angeles Lakers 113-93 in the opener.

The net result was that Los Angeles was left in third place in the West, a game behind Detroit, while the idle Cincinnati Royals are in the fourth spot, another 2 1/2 games behind.

Boston was led by Bob Cousy's 19 points and his accurate shooting helped put the Celtics into a 64-45 halftime lead.

Cliff Hagan's 38 points sparked the Hawks to their seventh victory in 10 meetings with the Pistons.

The largest American hardwood tree on record is in Whittington Park, Hot Spring National Park.

Porkers Blast Texas; Tech Loses to A&M

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hold up a bit on awarding the Southwest Conference basketball championship to Texas Tech—the Red Raiders all of a sudden are mixed up in a three-way fight for it.

The Raiders were riding high, wide and handsome, boasting a two-game lead and generally considered to be "in" Tuesday night when they tested the belligerent Texas Aggies on the latter's home court. A&M rose up and whipped Tech 74-71 and that tightened up the race.

Now Tech is only a game ahead and the Aggies and Arkansas are in hot pursuit. Arkansas might do something about it right quick, too. The Razorbacks play Texas Tech at Lubbock Saturday night. A victory would throw the Razorbacks into a first place tie with the Raiders.

Arkansas climbed back solidly into the race with a 74-59 thumping of Texas. The loss just about wrote the end to the hopes of the defending champions. Texas fell to a 5-4 record, two games off the pace.

Texas A&M couldn't stop Tech's one-two punch of Harold Hudgens and Ray Del Monte but Tech couldn't handle Carroll Broussard, Lewis Qualls and the Stanley twins—Pat and Don—either. A&M led practically all the way.

Mounts shaded Broussard in the scoring race. He pitched in 23 to 20 for Broussard. But the latter still was ahead with 412 points to 396 for the Red Raiders hotshot. Hudgens outscored them all with 24 points.

Arkansas led all the way in shattering Texas' dreams of a repeat. Jerry Carlton pushed the Razorbacks out front early and Arkansas led 22-5 before Texas went into a zone defense to slow the action down. Arkansas out-rebounded Texas and also was hotter from the floor—41.3 per cent to 39.2.

Ronnie Garner led the scoring with 21 points. Al Almanza topped Texas with 17.

Steve Strange returned to the firing line with a vim to lead Southern Methodist to a 79-68 triumph over Texas Christian. It pulled SMU into a tie with Texas for fourth place.

Strange got 26 points as he broke out of a slump that had cost him the conference scoring lead.

Jim Fox tipped in a field goal with only seven seconds left and Rice beat Baylor 61-58. It was Rice's fourth conference victory and Baylor was running its losing streak to nine straight.

Saturday night Texas A&M plays Rice at Houston, Baylor and Texas Christian tangle at Fort Worth and Texas clashes with Southern Methodist at Austin, in addition to the Tech-Arkansas game at Lubbock.

The announcement came just two weeks after Borg-Warner Corp. disclosed that its Norge Division would be moved from Muskegon, Mich., to Fort Smith.

Marvin Steinbock, general manager of Landers, Frary and Clark, said 85 per cent of the Paris operation already had been moved and limited production has begun of products formerly manufactured at Paris. He said the move would be completed by the end of the month.

The Paris plant employed about 300 persons, he said. He said employment at the Fort Smith plant, now about 700, probably would reach 1,200 to 1,500 by the end of the year.

Hepatitis Hits Arkansas County

cases of a contagious liver disease, infectious hepatitis, have been reported in Phillips County, a state Health Department official said today.

Dr. William L. Bunch Jr., head of the Department's Division of Communicable Disease Control, said it was possible more persons in the area near Marvell, were suffering from the disease.

Dr. L. B. Jones of Helena said the infected children were in two different schools 16 miles apart. Two are white children, two Negroes.

Bunch spent Tuesday in the Marvell area conferring with doctors and health officials about control of the virus-caused disease, which often causes a yellowish appearance in its victims.

"The plane appeared to be making a normal approach to land when, on nearing the ground, it suddenly reared up pointing almost vertically, nose up into the sky. Then it fell back like a giant stone and we heard an explosion."

From her home near the crash scene, Mrs. M. Croon said the plane was "making much more noise and was much lower than they usually are."

Francois de Kleermacker, a coal merchant, said it dropped "just like in wartime when planes fell after being hit."

Viscountess Pierre de Biolley was on her doorstep.

"The plane was making an unusual noise," she said. "It was flying extremely low. I saw it balancing in the sky then, as it flew over a small nearby wood, it seemed to recover power and pointed upwards and then it suddenly fell. It looked as if the pilot had made a desperate effort not to hit the houses."

An airport officer said clothes were burned off passengers in the forward cabin.

"It all took place at a terrifying speed," he said. "We saw the crash coming, it looked as if the plane's controls had been lost completely."

A state policeman said he saw pieces of aluminum melting like butter.

Amid the mud and mire lay plane fragments, an engine half buried, twisted pieces of pipes and cables, arms and legs protruding from the tangled mass.

The control tower commander said the plane had been in touch with the tower but shortly before the crash "we lost contact."

"The plane circled two or three times normally as a Caravelle jet was just taking off," he said. "All seemed all right then suddenly we realized something was going wrong. There were no more contacts. The plane appeared out of control. It fell like a bomb."

Boeing, the plane's builders, said this was the first 707 crash involving passenger fatalities among 12.12 million passengers carried.

Sabena Belgian Airlines, owned by the government, is one of several European lines that operate American-built jets.

A Sabena spokesman said positive identification of the bodies would be difficult.

Officials found the plane's flight recorder instruments and took

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A Sabena jet airliner from New York crashed and burned near Brussels today, wiping out the U.S. figure skating team and killing all others of the 72 persons aboard. A Belgian farmer was killed on the ground.

The 17-member skating team and its coach were flying to compete in the world championships at Prague. The skaters were among 61 passengers, and officials said most of the passengers were Americans. The big Boeing jet carried a crew of 11.

With the team was Mrs. Mariel Vinson Owen of Winchester, Mass., nine-time U.S. figure-skating champion.

Her daughter Laurence, 16, the only U.S. winner in the North American championships that ended Sunday in Philadelphia, led the team.

Deacons Kick Up Fuss Along the Coast

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Wake Forest Deacons, an accountably unpredictable outfit, the league, are kicking up such a fuss in Atlantic Coast Conference competition that they may wind up the team to beat when the ACC gets down to selecting its representative for the NCAA basketball championships.

The Deacons, with their highlight pair of Len Chappell and Billy Packer in fine fettle, pushed their ACC regular season record to a handsome 10-3 Tuesday night with a 103-89 whipping of third-ranked Duke. A 61.1 shooting percentage, 38 points by the 6-8, 240-pound Chappell, and 25 by the 5-11, 170-pound Packer did the job against the Blue Devils (17-3), who got a jolt earlier in the day when high-scoring soph Art Heyman was suspended by conference commissioner Jim Weaver for his part in a fight in a North Carolina game Feb. 4.

The suspension itself was temporarily suspended by the executive committee, freeing Heyman to play—and score 31 points. But Duke, now 9-2 in the ACC race, couldn't manage a reprieve once the Deacons took the lead midway in the first half.

Fifth-ranked Bradley (17-4) went into overtime to edge Notre Dame 84-81 at Chicago Stadium, tenth-ranked West Virginia (19-3) used its zone press effectively again for its ninth straight victory, 80-78 over Penn State; St. Joseph's (Pa.) 17-4 made it eight straight, 88-73 over Penn.

Bradley, down 64-59 with three minutes left, fought Notre Dame (10-12) into overtime at 68-all then handed the Irish their fourth straight loss with Tim Robinson scoring five points, Chet Walker and Mack Herndon four each and Mickey Tiemann three in the extra session. Robinson wound up with 25 points, Herndon 21 and Walker 18.

Chicago Loyola (12-5) enhanced its tournament chances in the opener of the doubleheader, nipping Marquette 81-78 on a last-minute field goal and free throw by Mike Gavin, who scored 24 points.

Sub Kenny Ward, filling in for ailing Rod Thorn, hit a jump shot with 5 seconds left for West Virginia's victory—capping a Mountain drive from five points behind with four minutes remaining. Paul Miller scored 22 points and Jim McCormick 18 while West Virginia ace Thorn took the night off to nurse a virus.

An Associated Press reporter who reached the scene of the crash said that debris from the huge Boeing was scattered for several hundred yards.

Scores of firemen and ambulance personnel were on the spot. Only a small number of bodies had been brought from the terribly twisted wreckage of the giant jet.

Firemen poured water and foam on the wreckage to prevent new fires from starting.

Theo de Leat, 24, a Belgian peasant who was working in the field when the plane crashed, was crushed under the wreckage.

Crossett Co. to Double Power Plant

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — A $4 million expansion program to double capacity for generating electrical power is in the planning stage for the Crossett Co.

A company official described the project today as "a necessary forerunner to further industrial growth at Crossett."

Turbines and boilers at the Crossett Lumber Co. will be retired when the new facility starts operation. Some of them have been operating since 1920.

Company officials said today that 75 per cent of the power potential will be needed with the remainder held in reserve to accommodate later plant expansions.

The installation will consist of a 20,000 kilowatt steam turbine generator, a bark-and-gas fired boiler with an hourly capacity of 300,000 pounds of steam, systems for conveying waste fuel from other divisions to the boiler and lines to return power and steam to them.
